OSI Systems Receives Multimillion Dollar Cargo and Vehicle Inspection Contract Award

HAWTHORNE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- OSI Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ: OSIS), a vertically-integrated provider of specialized electronics and services, today announced that its Security division, Rapiscan Systems, was awarded a multimillion dollar contract from an Eastern European customer in its Eagle® cargo and vehicle inspection product line.

OSI Systems CEO, Deepak Chopra, stated, "We look forward to increasing our installed base of Eagle systems in Eastern Europe, a key growth region that has numerous opportunities for cargo security infrastructure upgrades. Our Eagle CVI product line continues to lead the industry in terms of image quality, throughput and reliability."

Eagle® Cargo and Vehicle Inspection Systems

OSI System's line of Eagle® cargo and vehicle inspection systems are used by customs agencies, military organizations and homeland security worldwide because they provide outstanding image quality and threat detection, while maximizing the operational effectiveness of customers. Eagle cargo and vehicle inspection systems use proprietary transmission X-ray technology which, unlike other inspection technologies, is able to penetrate well beyond the surface of a container or vehicle to provide comprehensive detection of threats.
