OSI Systems Receives Orders for $5 Million to Provide Multiple Configurations of Eagle Cargo and Vehicle Inspection Solution

HAWTHORNE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- OSI Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ: OSIS), a vertically-integrated provider of specialized electronics and services, today announced that its Security division, Rapiscan Systems, was awarded orders for approximately $5 million from customers in Europe to provide multiple units of its Rapiscan Eagle® M-60, mobile cargo inspection system, and the Eagle P-60, drive through cargo inspection system.

OSI Systems CEO, Deepak Chopra commented, "We look forward to providing our Eagle high energy cargo inspection solutions that allow thorough inspection of densely packed cargo."

OSI Systems' line of Eagle® cargo and vehicle inspection systems are used by customs agencies, military organizations and homeland security worldwide because they provide outstanding image quality and threat detection, while maximizing the operational effectiveness of customers. Eagle cargo and vehicle inspection systems use proprietary transmission X-ray technology that, unlike other inspection technologies, is able to penetrate well beyond the surface of a container or vehicle to provide comprehensive detection of threats.
