OSI Systems Receives $5 Million Order for Cargo and Vehicle Inspection Systems

HAWTHORNE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- OSI Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ: OSIS), a vertically-integrated provider of specialized electronics and services, today announced that its Security division, Rapiscan Systems, was awarded an order for approximately $5 million from an Eastern European customer to provide multiple units of its Rapiscan Eagle® M-60, mobile cargo inspection system.

OSI Systems CEO, Deepak Chopra, commented, "We are excited about this award from a key customer and look forward to providing the Eagle M-60, one of the most powerful X-ray inspection systems available in a mobile configuration. Our Eagle cargo inspection product line is available in multiple configurations on fixed and mobile platforms allowing us to customize our offering to best suit the customer's requirements."

The Eagle® cargo and vehicle inspection systems are used by customs agencies, military organizations and homeland security worldwide because they provide outstanding image quality and threat detection, while maximizing the operational effectiveness of customers. Eagle cargo and vehicle inspection systems use proprietary transmission X-ray technology that, unlike other inspection technologies, is able to penetrate well beyond the surface of a container or vehicle to provide comprehensive detection of threats.
